Funston Faces Nobles' Attack

MONEY DEMAND CAUSES TRAGEDY

John V. Eberhardt shot and dangerously wounded Mrs. Agnes Morris, and then shot and killed himself, early today at the woman's home, Laurel Cottage on the Revere boulevard.

Mrs. Morris' husband is a telegraph operator and was away from home. He is about forty. Eberhardt, who is thirty and is said to be a deserter from the navy, entered the Morris home and demanded money.

He and Mrs. Morris had an altercation. The quarrel culminated when he whipped out a revolver and sent two bullets crashing into her body. One pierced her shoulder, the other penetrated her lung. A moment later he shot himself, a bullet in the shoulder, another in the abdomen, and then, with his last spark of life, a bullet in his temple.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.
The shots alarmed the neighborhood and the police were summoned. They found the woman unconscious. The man dead on the bathroom floor. The woman was removed to the Frost Hospital. Her condition is critical.

Miss Ethel Dones, a sister of Mrs. Morris, was in the room, and witnessed the shooting. Eberhardt had broken in through the bathroom window. Mrs. Morris had complained to the police that he was annoying her. He had formerly boarded at the house.

Three Hurt by Fall of Staging

Three carpenters were seriously hurt by the fall of a staging today from a new house which is being built for Robert M. Gibson at 151 Circuit street, Melrose.

Albert Chappelle of Wakefield was pinned under the staging. His back was hurt, his right leg strained and he suffered internal injury.

John McDonald of No. 55 Goss avenue, Melrose, received internal injury and cuts on the head. Harry Potter of Larrabee street, corner of East river street, Melrose, was cut and bruised.

Subway Flood as Big Main Bursts

A twelve-inch, high pressure water main at the corner of Devonshire and Summer streets burst early today and thousands of gallons of water flooded the new subway, undermining street cottages of the neighborhood.

LIGHTSHIP WRECKED; 25 LOST

HALIFAX, N. S., May 23.—The new lightship Halifax, bound from Glasgow for Halifax, has been wrecked on the eastern coast of Nova Scotia. She carried a crew of twenty-five men and it is believed that all have been lost. The vessel was officially known as "No. 15." She was built for the Canadian government.

News of the lightship's loss reached here today when Captain Murdoch of the steamer Dufferin put into Lunenburg, N. S., telegraphed to the government officials here that his vessel had passed wreckage and bodies off the coast. Some of the bodies, Captain Murdoch reported, bore life belts with the name "Halifax No. 15" upon them.

The scene of the disaster is believed to be in the vicinity of Maria Joseph, about 50 miles east of Halifax. All the crew were probably Scotchmen, it having been gathered at Halifax.

For several days the whole coast has been enveloped in dense fog and shipping men believe that this was the cause of the wreck. Those on board being unfamiliar with the coast. As soon as news of the wreck reached Halifax the superintendent of the Dominion marine department issued orders for the dispatch of government steamers to the scene of the disaster to search for the bodies and try to locate the wreck.

MEXICAN TRUCE IN DANGER

By THOMAS P. COATES.
Special Staff Correspondent of the American.

VERA CRUZ, May 23.—General Robles, commanding 2,500 Federal troops outside the United States lines here, is preparing to attack.

General Funston, through his scouts, has received word of its movement planned, and is strengthening his entrenchments and waiting for whatever may come.

The American forces here are prepared to repulse any attack by so small a force; but there is danger that the entire Federal force, which outnumbered the American troops almost two to one, may join the more led by Robles.

THREATENED MUTINY.
General Robles was forced to plan his attack by threats of mutiny among his men. His soldiers hate the Yankees. They have received no pay for months and food is scarce. They are anxious for action, and believe they could capture the province of Vera Cruz.

To check the threatened mutiny, General Robles at length agreed to attack Vera Cruz, and preparations were at once begun.

ROBLES ACTIVE.
Robles is at Los Bajos. He has promised to attack within four days. Robles is a subordinate of General Navarrete, who has repeatedly vowed to take Vera Cruz.

H. W. PEASLEE SHOT AT HENNIKER, N. H.; ASSASSIN ESCAPES

HENNIKER, N. H., May 23.—Howard W. Peaslee, prosperous toy manufacturer and town official, of middle age, was found murdered today in a small building on his estate, which he used as a den and occasional sleeping quarters.

The murderer had shot Mr. Peaslee as he sat reading his evening newspaper in an easy chair. The assassin evidently shot through an open window to the rear of his victim. A shot gun was used.

LEAVES NOTE OF WARNING.
The murderer left pinned to the window sill a note to this effect:

"LET THIS BE A WARNING TO OTHERS GUILTY OF CRIMINAL WORK."

Beyond this note the assassin left no trace. The first report said that a shotgun had been found. A later report denied this.

Early this Spring Mr. Peaslee's wife, Mrs. Belle Bragg Peaslee, left his home and went to live with their married daughter, Mrs. James A. Perkins of West Hopkinton, an adjoining town. Then Mrs. Peaslee fled suit for divorce on the ground of incompatibility.

George V. Hill, Mr. Peaslee's attorney, when informed today of the murder, said that only yesterday he on behalf of Peaslee, had made an offer of $15,000 to Mrs. Peaslee to have her drop the suit. They were awaiting her answer.

Mrs. Peaslee arrived at the Peaslee home before noon from her daughter's home in West Hopkinton.

LEAD GUN REPORT.
The murder was committed about 10 o'clock last night. Neighbors recalled today hearing a shotgun report. It attracted no particular attention, because the Peaslees and other families had been shooting at stray cats which had been invading chicken coops of late.

Coroner Chaney Adams of Concord came up on the first train and took charge of the case. It is expected that County Sheriff Robert Morrish of Concord will also take it up.

Howard W. Peaslee was fifty years old and a life-long resident of this town. He was proprietor of the Henninger Toy & Novelty Company, did a prosperous business and owned considerable real estate.

He was highly respected and known throughout the country. He had served on the Board of Selectmen and later as road agent, or representative of the Highway Commissioners on spending county money on road work.

The Peaslee homestead is about a mile from the center of the town on the road to Weare. In the family were Mr. and Mrs. Peaslee and their only son, Morrison Peaslee, a married son, Morrison Peaslee, a married daughter, Mrs. Parmenter of West Parmenter, and a younger son, Shirley Peaslee. The latter went to Lynn, Mass., to work for the General Electric Company, but has since been reported as working for a detective agency in Boston. When Mrs. Peaslee and Mr. Peaslee left home the household consisted of the father and older son.

FOUND DEAD IN DEN.
The father spent most of his evenings in the building he had fitted up as a den and sleeping room. This building is across the street from the main house, on land owned by Mr. Peaslee.

Last night Mr. Peaslee retired to his den-building for the night. This morning Morrison Peaslee, stepped across the road to call his father to breakfast. Then den door was locked. Morrison did not think that strange because his father often locked the door when passing the night there. But he brought no response.

The son walked around the open window in the rear. He saw his father, sitting dead in the easy chair with the back of his head slumped away by a charge of buckshot.

Looking for a Business Location?

Pleety of them in the city. Just the one you want somewhere. You'll have an easy time finding it in the "Want Ad" pages of the Boston American.

Boston American

Under the heading "Stores and Offices to Let," a great many fine locations are listed from day to day. In fact, it's about the best directory of the kind published.

And those who advertise get results. This is indicated by the frequent withdrawal of advertisements that have run a number of times and the appearance of new ads; showing that Boston American "Want Ads" stimulate the sale and renting of business property.

Any one having business property to sell or lease can wait a lot of money waiting for a customer or a tenant to appear.

The quickest way to reveal the whereabouts of a buyer or renter is to be up in an explanatory ad. Then lay it with any of the American's "Want Ad" Stations, the branch office at 204 Washington Street, main office at 80 Summer Street, or

KEENE TELLS OF GRAT CHANGES IN POLO GAME

By FOXHALL KEENE.
America's Greatest Polo Player.
It is not generally known that the game of polo has undergone many and wonderful changes since the first international match played in this country. In fact, it would be hard to recognize it as the same sport.
It will not be impossible, in view of the coming cup contests with England, to comment briefly upon the changes in the game since the first match played in this country and to give a few reminiscences of the first matches played at Newport.
In other articles which I hope to write for the AMERICAN I expect to deal more specifically with the merits and demerits of the opposing teams. Just criticism is the best way to correct faults and I will write of the American team as I see it.
HOW OLD GAME WAS PLAYED.
The first international polo match was played at Newport in 1896. In those days there were many polo litters the ball up and down Bellevue avenue, but there was not much team work.
Nobody took polo very seriously, however, there was a great interest to raise a sufficient fund by subscription for a cup and arrange for an international match. The result was the famous Hurlingham team which John Watson brought over to play us. The game was started in those days by charging for the ball, which was played in the center of the field. With two men stationed at the wings, those charging would reach the middle of the field for the ball, much depending upon which side reached it first.
BACK HAND STROKE.
In that first match I remember that Malcolm Little charged for the ball and I for the American, was riding Roman, a splendid pony and later somewhat fatter, and reached the ball before Little and carried it to the line.
The English seemed to be somewhat disconcerted by this unexpected turn of events, but they later showed us that they knew something about polo. But we proved very capable as the matches of more recent years have shown.
In those days the game was entirely different from what it is now. We never used the back hand stroke, in fact there was a notice in the Western Union club house that whoever hit any one hitting a back hand stroke would be fined ten dollars. But we were seen to learn the advantage of the stroke and we used it.

AWAKENING OF POLO HERE.
I think it was after the first forty years of play that the game was first landed upon us and knocked out six goals in twenty minutes and won the game.
Some of us endeavored to copy the wonderful hitting and the American opponents made, and later we succeeded. This was the awakening of polo in America.
In this match that showed us a great deal about polo, of which we had never dreamed—the inside workings of the game, how the men should be placed and introduced to us the real backhand stroke.
The American team for that match was selected in a most happy and lucky fashion. It was during the early season at Newport and the only one there was asked to come and visit for the members of the team.
Popularity, rather than ability, might be expected to play an important part in the selection of the team under these conditions. But nobody cared, for nobody knew much about polo.

BIRTH STAR OF OLD DAYS.
Thomas Hens was one of the great players of that time, and I recall with considerable pride the name of the number number of goals for the American during that match. John Watson's team defeated the American polo once more to John Watson. He did not gratify the desire, without that beating which the team, administered to them, would have taken many, many years to have reached the position of position in the polo world which is now his pride.

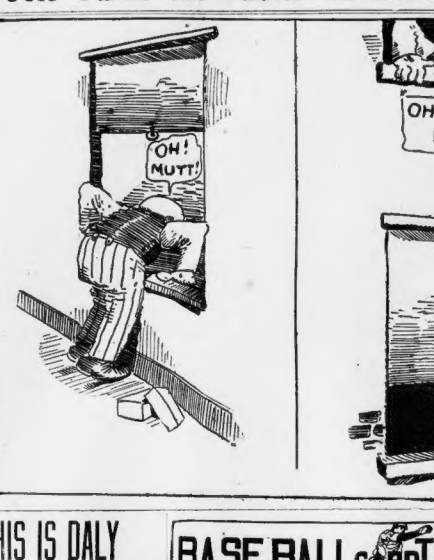

Two Murphys Win Cambridge Bouts

Eddie Murphy, the South Boston lightweight, won the second round of the fight between him and Walter Murphy of Brooklyn in their second bout at the University A. C., Cambridge.
Murphy caught a blow on the face and jaw, which he kept on his face, kicking him, and once came over putting him in.
In the opening of the second round, Patsy Green and Frankie Barrett fought a close and exciting round with Green hitting the decision. Jerry Gardner of South Boston won the fight and stopped the fight for him and stopped the fight.

Other Bouts.
AT BALTIMORE—Tommy Hough, New York featherweight, was saved from a knockout in the fourth round against George Cranny, the local contender, by the interference of the police.
AT PHILADELPHIA—Young McGovern and Jimmy Hough fought a draw in the window at the Kensington A. C.
AT DALLAS—Tommy Bobbly Wren of Fort Worth and Harry Treadwell of St. Louis fought eight first rounds.
AT HUDSON, Wis.—Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul put Buck Crouse of Pittsburgh to sleep in the fourth round and Al Palmer made his reappearance, knocking out the first round of Minneapolis in the fourth session.

M. A. H. S. Wins.
Mechanic Arts High track team defeated Southerville High in the first heat on Tulsa Oval by the score of 20 to 10. Hall Carver and Joe Cuddy were the stars.

THIS IS DAILY PAY FOR FANS AT SOX PARK

This will be a big day out at Fenway Park. To begin with, Manager Carrigan will probably propel another of his shut-out sensations, Dutch Leonard, against the invading White Sox. Further, James Collahan will come back with a person who is something in the line of a "goose" performer himself, to wit, "Hooper" Russell.
Last, but by no means least—far from it—it will be "Mule Day." The Cambridge "rascals" will be out strong and claim that the reaction they will give their young fellow-townsmen, Tom Daly, who is now backstopping and pinch-hitting with the visitors, will surpass any other feature of the afternoon. And from the looks of things it very likely will.
Mayor Good of Cambridge will lead the crowd that will come out nationally famous when he is cheer for the nation's Englishman, who is now backstopping and pinch-hitting with the visitors, will surpass any other feature of the afternoon. And from the looks of things it very likely will.

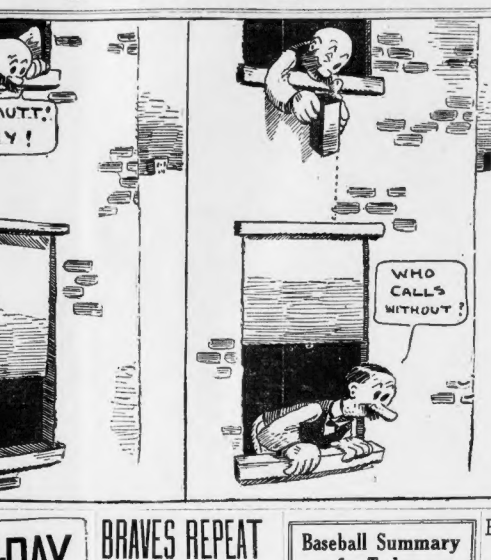

Major Good of Cambridge will lead the crowd that will come out nationally famous when he is cheer for the nation's Englishman, who is now backstopping and pinch-hitting with the visitors, will surpass any other feature of the afternoon. And from the looks of things it very likely will.

Among other things that will be presented with a diamond ring, the chief executive from across the Charles making the point that goes into the line of a "goose" performer himself, to wit, "Hooper" Russell.
